

Rev. Thomas Dixon recently took the center of the stage and denounced "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as pernicious reading. The noise caused by this declaration having subsided, the broadminded preacher of the gospel steps to the front with this wild declaration: "My deliberate opinion of the modern Negro in this country is that he is not worth hell room. If I were the devil I would not let him in hell. They will be driven from the south just as surely as they swarm that place now."—Ex.
