

Forrester Washington Scores So-called "New Negro"

Montgomery, Ala.—The Alabama State Normal School closed its Spring Quarter Commencement June 6th with the graduation exercises which were featured by the scheduled address of Forrester B. Washington, of the Atlanta School of Social Work.

Mr. Washington essayed to answer the query as to the mission of higher education for the Negro by urging that the Negro intellectual hook up with the masses out of justice and out of self-protection. He deplored the despicable exploitation of the Negro masses by the so-called "New Negro" who tries to get away from the Negro masses and who always writes about them to make them appear ignorant, immoral and vicious.
