ROMAN CATHOLIC UNIVERSITIES REMOVE BAR AGAINST COLOR

The Famous Georgetown University And The Catholic University of America Open Their Doors to Colored Students For the First Time in Their History.—A Decided Educational Gain.

By WALTER J. SINGLETON.
Washington, D. C., May 6, 1920. Special to The Monitor.—An important gain has been made in securing recognition in the educational world, and a victory, far-reaching in its effect, against the exclusion of students, because of their racial origin, from the privileges of higher education. The two most important Roman Catholic educational institutions in this country—Georgetown University and the Catholic University of America—have opened their doors to colored students. Georgetown University is one of the oldest in the United States. It is said that the first president, George Washington, once visited it. Conducted by the Jesuit order, noted for achievement in the field of science and generally recognized as the most learned teaching body in the Roman Catholic Church, this university has maintained its position as one of the leading institutions of learning in the East and its alumni rolls bear the names of a multitude of great men in political, literary and social life.

The Catholic University of America is the official center of Catholic education and thought in the United States. It is supported by every Roman Catholic bishop in the American Hierarchy, every branch of education, classical and scientific, is available to the student. With the barriers removed from "historic, exclusive Georgetown" and the Catholic University—the largest in the country—every Catholic institution of higher education is now open to the Negro race.

While the doors of all Roman Catholic churches have long been open to all, as well as participation in processions and other public demonstrations, it has hesitated many years before lowering the barriers of its college and universities, yielding, apparently, to popular race prejudice. However, a considerable element of the clergy, headed by the venerable Primate Cardinal Gibbons, have long discountenanced race discrimination in all educational and religious life, and this new order of things, in which we all rejoice (of whatever creed) is, doubtless due to the cardinal's characteristic broad policy and great influence.

Thus a significant milestone in the history of progress and toleration is passed when the Roman Catholic church courageously puts into practice its tenet of catholicity or universality.

WHAT OUR EDITORS SAY.

Wants Whole Loaf.

He (the Negro) plays the "beggar's role" in spite of the fact that he has proven himself to be an indissoluble and indivisible entity of the whole warp and woof of America, economic, political, military and social. He is the economic backbone of the south. He holds the balance of political power as he is beginning to learn. He has always been the fanz of the American army. His blood, suspected and unsuspected, flows in more veins than any other one strain in America.

He is still a slave if he accepts anything short of the fullest unstinted measure of recognition and respect. THE NEW NEGRO, breaking away from the false doctrine of the OLD SCHOOL will never again be satisfied with EQUAL RIGHTS when they are not the SAME RIGHTS. The NEW NEGRO, repudiating the teachings of the LOG CABIN PHILOSOPHERS, who have led him into a quagmire of penance and serfdom, MUST and WILL spurn the Half Loaf and lay hold on the WHOLE LOAF, so "help him God."—The Chicago Whip.

Perpetual Pushing.
The spirit and determination to stick is the key to success in any an all undertakings. Confidence, self-reliance, belief in yourself that you are right, will attract the attention of others and cause them to believe in you and carry you on to success. But if you start out with that doubtful feeling and see failure ahead you have already failed and it is needless to start. "Perpetual pushing and assurance put a difficulty out of countenance and make a seeming impossibility give way."

The young man who launches out in business and has real confidence in himself, coupled with perpetual push, cannot fail. Napoleon was a great general because he believed in Napoleon and he felt that he could not possibly lose.

Theodore Roosevelt was another character who believed in himself so thoroughly that others believed in him and trusted and followed him.

We know of no man in our time who did more perpetual pushing than Theodore Roosevelt.

By perpetual pushing and confidence in himself, Columbus gained the support of a queen and discovered a new world—America.

By perpetual pushing and confidence in one another, we, as a race, can most assuredly put out of countenance the prejudices, difficulties and impossibilities which we encounter on every hand. Have we not read in the Bible that "if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed ye shall say unto the mountain remove hence to yonder place: and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you?"—Colorado Statesman.

WEDDING BELLS.
Reed-Smith Nuptials.

Miss R. Smith became the bride of Lieutenant A. T. Reed of Omaha, Nebraska, April 24, at St. Philip's Ep. Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Swann. The bride was given away by Sergeant Jamieson, her brother-in-law, and a quiet breakfast followed at the home of her brother-in-law, among a number of friends and relatives. The newly-weds will leave the city in the near future for California and other points west. Mr. and Mrs. Reed will make their future residence in California where a house has been built for their accommodation. The bride was the recipient among other things of a wedding present of $500 from the groom and a Hudson Super-Six auto. Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson and the guests present showered other things of a wedding present of their congratulations upon them. The bride is a beautiful daughter of Washington D. C. The lieutenant is an ex member of the 368th infantry, and is a native of Omaha, Nebraska. The quiet wedding was notable for its early and social features. The contracting parties being popular and widely known in their respective cities and especially the bride in this city.—Amsterdam (N. Y. News.

THE SPHINX.

By Lucian B. Watkins.

One with the silence of eternity,
On through the years, thou art sublimely mute.
The secret that no mortal can rerute
Is locked within these massive lips we see,
That foil the ages with their mystery.
Thou art the faith-long dream, the serious fruit
Of men who prayed and touched
Heaven's hallowed lute—
Who saw the eastern dawn that is to be.

Woman and beast! more terrible than speech.
Thou art the awful censor in this hour—
When empty souls are clamoring and preach
Their foolish fancies from a tottering tower.
Black men of Egypt set thee here to teach
Thy wordless wisdom: PEACE AND POISE AND POWER.

72 YEARS FOR HOUSE-BREAKING
Houston, Tex., May 12.—Raymond Smith, colored, was sentenced to 72 years in the state penitentiary here after being convicted for burglary in 14 cases. A separate jury was selected to try each case. The sentences aggregated 72 years. At the end of the thirteenth case Smith requested a new jury to try the fourteenth case, but inasmuch as 156 men had already been employed in dealing justice to Smith, and there were not enough talesmen to make up a jury for the fourteenth case, Smith's request was denied.

BOSTON MEN SEEK CHARTER FOR BANK
Boston, May 13.—Business men of this city and Cambridge appeared in large numbers before the board of bank incorporation last Wednesday seeking a charter for a savings bank, to be located at 990 and 992 Tremont street, Roxbury, and to be known as the Douglas Square Savings bank.

MAKES REQUEST FOR TRAINING NURSES

New York, May 6.—Miss Lucy M. Spelman, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, divided the residue of her estate into two equal parts, according to her will, filed recently in the Surrogates' court. She gave one part to Oberlin college to prepare girls for service in foreign missionary fields and one part to the general educational board of the District of Columbia to prepare Negro girls to be graduate nurses.

Corked!
A nervous old lady, on getting into a train, discovered that a horrid man with a gun was in the corner seat. "I hope that thing is not loaded," she said. "Yes, ma'am, it is," said the man. "However, I will insert this cork in the muzzle. There! quite safe."
